COURTHOUSE TO BE MASS OF IVY

100 SHRUBS AND PLANTS WERE SET OUT THIS MORNING.

CLUBS PROVIDE MONEY

D. A. R. and Twentieth Century to Help Keep Grounds—C. C. Leeson, Miss Olive DeLuce Plan.

In time the Nodaway county courthouse is to be one mass of Engelmann Ivy while flowering shrubs will make the grounds more attractive. C. C. Leeson, instructor in the State Teachers College, was a busy man this morning. He was setting out the 100 plants, which are to make the court house surroundings more attractive. Mr. Leeson, with Miss Olive DeLuce, instructor in art at the State Teachers College and a member of the D. A. R. were appointed to plan the planting by the two clubs interested in civic affairs.

This spring when the town was talking clean up, the D. A. R. and the Twentieth Century club offered to plant flowers and shrubs on the court house grounds and see that they had the proper care during the spring and summer.

A committee was appointed and the money raised by the clubs for this work. Five dollars of the Twentieth Century club money used for this purpose was a gift from Mrs. Scribner Beech of San Diego, California. Mrs. Beech was formerly a member of the Twentieth Century club here and on the fifteenth birthday of the organization made them a gift of $5.00.

Besides the ten ivies, which are being planted around the building, five beds of shrubs have been laid out.

On either side of the walk in the front of the court house is a bed of Japanese Barberry, while to the south of the building is a bed of Spirea, Golden Elder and Dentzia. At the extreme north of the court house will be found Bridal Wreath, Tamarisk, Red Stemmed Dogwood, and Syrigna, while in another bed on the north side Tartarian Honeysuckle, Privet and Snowberry will bloom.

Mr. Leeson's hobby is planning flower gardens. He planned the planting around the public library as well as the one around the First Methodist church. He is interested in gardening and frequently assists his friends in town in selecting shrubs and flowers. Mr. Leeson not only assisted in the planning of the shrubs and plants on the court house grounds, but did most of the work himself.

Now that the shrubs have been started the two clubs will see that they have the care that they should to make them grow. The grounds around the building have been raked and unsightly objects removed.

Mrs. Junior Dowis of Sheridan was in Maryville shopping today.

BERT COOPER RETURNS FROM NEBRASKA TEACHERS MEETING

Spoke Three Times on Different Phases of Vitalized Agriculture.

Bert Cooper, superintendent of schools, who has been in Lincoln, Neb., attending a meeting of the State Teachers Association of Nebraska at Lincoln, returned today. Mr. Cooper made three talks on vitalized agriculture while away. He spoke to the rural teachers, the superintendents and the general meeting. A phase of the subject, which would appeal to each one of these groups was used by Mr. Cooper.

The Nodaway county vitalized agriculture schools have made a reputation for themselves and the superintendent is often called upon to explain how they have made a success of the work.

CLARINDA FOLK MAKE HIT IN "WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES"

Hymn Book Salesman to Keep From Clutches Police Hides, Causing Complications.

Clarinda, Iowa, returned our visit Friday evening. They came about 40 strong last night to the First Christian church to give "What Happened to Jones." There were sixteen in the cast and with them came twenty-five others to root for the "home team." The human dog, who did the barking in the play, made the hit of the evening. He was introduced to the house between acts and barked some in acknowledgment of the introduction. Between the second and third acts the twins, Priscilla and Aquilla, sang "I've Got the Mumps."

The play "What Happened to Jones" was in three acts and was one of the best plays ever given in Maryville.

The leading character was Jones. The play was under the auspices of the music committee of the church.

This is the second of a series of five entertainments to be given at that church and according to Rev. R. E. Snodgrass, they will all be of first class type.

The play last night dealt with the happenings of a hymn book salesman by the name of Jones, who hid in the home of a college professor to keep out of the reach of the police. Disguised as a bishop he had many experiences. These ranged from hiding his suit of clothes in the piano to making love to the old maid sister of the professor. Then when the real bishop appeared his chagrin was increased. In the last act he was from the frying pan into the fire. However, in the climax, he foiled the police, won the heroine of the story and lived happily ever after. To use the words of the play he was a hymn book salesman, a rattling good fellow, and his name was Jones.

The next number in the series of entertainments will be a picture show, "The Stream of Life," and is scheduled for April 15.

BURLINGTON JUNCTION TO HAVE SALE

BREEDERS MEET TUESDAY FOR MAKING ARRANGMENTS

FIFTEEN BULLS LISTED

Hopkins and Maryville Merchants To Cooperate in Advertising—Kinnaird Working in Campaign

Burlington Junction and community now have a sufficient number of bulls listed for a successful sale, according to R. A. Kinnaird, agricultural agent of Nodaway County. A meeting has been called for next Tuesday evening at Burlington to elect the committee to have charge of the sale, name the day and hour. So far 15 bulls have been listed for the sale, which will take place either at Burlington Junction or Clearmont.

Work on the Hopkins sale is going well, Mr. Kinnaird says. The merchants of Hopkins have agreed to mention the bull sale in all of their advertisements. The Maryville merchants will do the same thing for the Maryville sale. Gaynor City now has 20 bulls listed for the Gaynor sale. Mr. Kinnaird is giving most of his time now to making the Better Bulls sale a success. Six sales have been planned for Nodaway County. These are scheduled for different parts of the county so that a greater number of farmers may have the opportunity to buy pure bred stock.

Mr. Kinnaird says:

To acquaint livestock owners with the benefits resulting from the use of purebred sires, the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, has prepared a collection of specific facts and figures. The following incidents have just been made public:

An inferior dairy bull, Brown Bessie's Register, not only failed to increase the milk and butterfat production of his daughters but actually lowered them.

The first five of his daughters to freshen produced in a year 2,140 pounds less of milk and 87 pounds less of butter fat than their dams.

Dams—Milk, lbs. 6,121; butter fat, lbs., 293. Daughters—Milk, lbs. 3,981; butterfat, lbs. 206. Decrease—Milk, lbs. 2,140; butterfat, lbs. 37.

Compared to this record is the report on three daughters of Sultana's Virginia Lad, a good purebred bull. When these heifers freshened they gave the following average yearly production as 2-year-olds:

Daughters—Milk, lbs. 9,676; butterfat, lbs. 519. Dams—Milk, lbs. 4,992; butterfat, lbs 269. Increase—Milk, lbs. 4,684; butterfat, lbs. 250.

Purebreds Increase Yeild

Striking improvement due to the use of purebred sires is found in results obtained by the New Windsor (Md.) Bull Association. The average annual butterfat production of daughters of pure bred sires compared with their dams was:

Bull No. 1—Dams' average lbs. fat, 208.3; daughters' average lbs. fat, 270.5; daughters' average gain over dams, 62.2.

Bull No. 2—Dams' average lbs. fat, 226.4; daughters' average lbs. fat, 281.6; daughters' average gain over dams, 55.2.

Bull No. 3—Dams' average lbs. fat, 254; daughters' average lbs. fat, 369.5—daughters' average gain over dams, 115.5.

Attention is directed to the fact that a bull's influence is equal to that of a herd of 20 cows. In a year's time the cow influences but one offspring, her own calf, where the average bull, siring a score of calves, influences each calf.

Calves sired by good purebred bulls are worth at least one-fourth more than calves of the same age sired by average grade bulls. The increased value of the calves sired by the pure bred bull in one season will nearly balance the difference in purchase price of a good purebred bull over a grade.

Demonstrations Prove Value.

The value of purebred beef bulls over the common stock is being conclusively shown by a 30-year demonstration at the Sni-a-Bar farms.

In 1913, the best of the steers sired by common bulls brought $2.25 per hundredweight, or a total of $24.91 under the top price. Two-year-old steers of the first cross from these cows sired by good purebred bulls brought the highest price ever paid at that time of the year in Kansas City. They sold for 40 cents per hundredweight, or a total of $5.22 per head above the top price of bulk shipment.

Recent sheep-management cost accounting on Missouri farms brought out the fact that where good purebred rams were used the net profits averaged 50 per cent more than the net profits from flocks where ordinary frade rams were used.

HARDING ANNOUNCES POLICY ON TWO QUESTION OF VIVIANI

One Germany Must Pay to Full Extent of Ability—Debtor Nations Settle

Washington, April 2.—On the two broad questions of international policy the attitude of the Harding administration has already been made clear to Rene Viviani, France's special envoy to America. One of these is America will stand solidly on principle that Germany was responsible for the horrors of the world war and that she must pay full extent of her ability. The other is America has quit playing the benevelent big brother and is now beginning to take stock of her assets. Viviani was told politely that the quicker the debtor nations get obligations settled on sound fiscal basis with regular interest payments the better this nation will be pleased.

GOV. HYDE SIGNS MANY BILLS FRIDAY

APPROVES MEASURE AS TO PROSECUTING ATT. SALARIES.

MEANS HIKE OF $500 HERE

Signed Many Other Measures, Including One to Protect Motion Picture Theater Owners.

Jefferson City, April 2.—Governor Hyde yesterday signed the bill regulating the salaries of prosecuting attorneys as to population of localities on the basis of 3½ voters to the total population of each county. This measure will increase the salary of the prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county from $2,000 to $2,500.

The governor approved several legislative bills, among them being the following:

An act to protect domestic moving picture show proprietors by providing that when they are required by non-resident film companies to make deposits for films for future delivery the deposit money shall be placed in a local bank and held there as a trust fund and only paid out upon the receipt of the films. Heretofore many deposits have been lost by motion picture theater owners because after accepting the money the corporation often went into bankruptcy. All deposits for the rental of films are to be returned, and failure on the part of the corporation now enables the depositor to fix the liability for violation of the act.

Imposing a tax of $1 a year on dogs.

Two bills providing that county officials shall not be entitled to any increase in salaries above the amount they were entitled to draw November 2, 1920.

Allowing judges of the county courts $5 a day and expenses while attending the biennial conventions of the officials.

Authorizing all cities of the third class to adopt the city manager plan of managing municipal affairs upon an affirmative popular vote.

Prohibiting foreign corporations from acting as testamentary trustees.

Empowering trust companies to invest 10 per cent of their capital and stock in banks. The object of this law is to enable trust companies to become aligned with the federal reserve banks.

Providing that 90 per cent of the stockholders of a corporation may vote to dissolve and obtain an order of court to this effect upon the submission of proof. This measure is intended to enable the St. Joseph Lead Company of St. Francois county to dissolve the Doe Run Company of which it owns more than 90 per cent of the stock.

Increasing state aid for approved high schools from $750 a year to $1,500.

Providing for a negro inspector of negro schools, under direction of the state superintendent of public schools, at a salary of $2,400 a year.

Making city plats that are not contested over a period of ten years legal.

Allowing judges of criminal courts $100 a month extra when called from their places of residence.

Establishing in law that when banks close at noon Saturday, such closing defers payments on checks until the Monday following.

Eliminating the 50 cent police department charge for bonds in misdemeanor cases as revenue to the police relief funds.

Fixing attorneys' fees in delinquent tax suits at $3 where there is no publication, with 10 per cent added.

Authorizing the condemnation of property for the establishment of public and private cemeteries.

Requiring farmers' mutual insurance companies to make annual reports to the secretary of the state as to the financial condition.

Amending the insurance laws so as to not make it compulsory for the secretary and treasurer of such companies to be members of the board of directors.

Mrs. A. S. Robey and daughter, Miss Virginia Lawson, went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XVI.—TENNESSEE

THE history of Tennessee stretches back to the year 1541 when De Soto with his party of Spanish adventurers probably reached the present site of Memphis on the Mississippi. The French under La Salle built a fort here about 1682. The English also laid claim to this territory, including it in the grant to North Carolina. It was not until 1770 that the first permanent settlement was made by James Robertson and this was soon followed by many other settlers from North Carolina. They formed what they called the Washington district, but this was short lived as it was promptly annexed to North Carolina. In 1784 the inhabitants, indignant over North Carolina's attitude toward them, declared their independence and formed the State of Franklin or Frankland. As this secession was not countenanced by North Carolina, for a number of years a state of confusion existed with two sets of officers trying to govern. Meanwhile the settlement suffered severely from hostile Indians and from the Spanish, who still held Louisiana, and controlled the Mississippi river. In 1790 North Carolina finally ceded this territory to the United States. By 1796 the population had increased to over 60,000, so Tennessee was admitted as the sixteenth state of the Union.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Tennessee joined the Confederacy. In 1866, when the state was readmitted to the Union, there was much disorder during the reconstruction period. This led to the formation of the Ku Klux Klan, the influence of which quickly spread throughout the Southern states. This secret organization took into its own hands the suppression of crime and the administration of justice.

Tennessee contains 42,022 square miles, and is sometimes called the Volunteer state. It is named after its principal river, which is a Cherokee word meaning "Crooked River" or "bend in the river."

The First Banking Business

in Nodaway county was done before any banks were organized and was handled by the Maryville stores who sent the checks or drafts received to the large cities.

The first bank was established in 1868 and has occupied the same location in Maryville ever since.

Other banks were soon started until every town in the county has one or more, and their continuous substantial character is attested by the fact that there has never been but one bank failure in the county and that a very small bank.

The Farmers Trust Company is proud to be one of the county's banks and proud to be known as the bank of "personal service."

DUSKY GENT SOLVES SOFT COAL SUPPLY

Finds World Hard Though—Special Agent interferes With Plans

Chicago, April 1.—Life was powerful slow down in Mobile for James Andrews Jackson Thomas. He craved speed, and the leisurely life of the South palled on him. He felt that his talents demanded a larger economic field.

So on a fair day in February last Mr. Smith packed his razor and entrained for Chicago on an overland freight. Reaching here he engaged quarters at 3136 South State Street and awaited developments, but opportunity failed to knock at Mr. Smith's door. He was not feazed.

Finds Old Friend

Borrowing a nickel and three cents from a follow lodger, Mr. Smith took tram to 17 East Twenty-eighth street, which is the stable of Charles Powell, a contracting teamster. Mr. Powell was out. Mr. Smith borrowed a hefty draft horse, a shovel and harness. Then rode leisurly to 2710 South Michigan avenue, where there was parked a two-ton wagon. He hitched the wagon to the horse.

Other Side of Jordan

Special Agent George Murray, of the Illinois Central Railroad, was making his rounds when he heard vocal music. Having never resided in the South he had never heard anything like it. The song was delivered with Ciceronian gusto and went something like this:

"Ah'll be there on Resurrection Day,
On the other side of Jordan,
In them sweet fields of Eden
Where the tree of life is blooming."

Mr. Murray discovered the singer atop a coal car, shoveling the contents into a two-ton wagon.

"What's the idea?" he asked.

Pow'ful Happy

"Nothin'," replied Mr. Thomas, "except I's almighty an' pow'ful happy. I'm in the coal business. I'm ready for orders. Can I sell you a ton boss?"

"Whose coal is that?"

"I don't know whose it is now, but it'll soon be mine."

"You're pinched," said Murray.

At the South Clark Street station Mr. Thomas said he was goin back to Mobile if he ever got out.

Next Week At the Movies

AT THE EMPIRE.

The headline attraction for the week is billed for Monday and Tuesday. It is "Parlor Matches," a two act musical comedy, under the direction of Miss Bess Scott and Mrs. Vera Sayler Pickett. It is a local talent production, whose cast includes all the leading amateur and semi-professional talent of the city. The spectacular choruses encostume are going to be one of the best presentations of the kind that has ever been here. They include the Sunshine, Japanese, Hawaiian and Bird choruses. A clever plot is woven through the play and many amusing situations arise. The reserved seat sale started yesterday and from the indications, there will be a full house both nights. The proceeds will go to the St. Francis hospital.

W. B. Warner will be seen Wednesday and Thursday in "One Hour Before Dawn," which is said to be one of the most baffling and thrilling mystery stories the screen has ever presented.

This Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe feature presents the popular star in the role of a writer who entertains views antagonistic to hypnotism. He is dared into being hypnotized and, while in the trance, is commanded to kill a man he hates at one hour before dawn. Morning discloses the murder and there commences the mystery.

Had hypnotism compelled a good man to commit an evil deed? When in a hypnotic state was the will of the hypnotist supreme over Divin Will? "One Hour Before Dawn" answers these questions.

William Desmond in "A Broadway Cowboy" will furnish the feature attraction Friday and Saturday. It is a Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe production adapted from Byron Morgan's story, and is chuck full of fast action thrills, humor and romance.

The story gives William Desmond a role entirely different than any in which he has previously appeared. As the Broadway matinee hero of a wild west melodrama, Bill never expected to get in any closed touch to real Western life than he was when enacting his role in the play.

The show goes "on the road" and hits Montana, where the actor gets arrested, and nearly lynched for unintentional horse stealing. But then Betty, from the West, with whom he fell in love while playing in New York, rescues him in just the same way the leading lady did in his play. There will also be a Harold Lloyd comedy, "Number Please."

AT THE ELECTRIC

"The Deep Purple," R. A. Walsh's film version of Paul Armstrong's and Wilson Mizner's famous play, is booked for Monday and Tuesday nights.

This photoplay represents one of the best screen offerings presented here in some time. Suspense is well sustained, and Director Walsh, now an independent producer, has succeeded in developing a crook play from a new angle.

The story deals with the adventures of Doris Moore, an unsophisticated country lass who goes from her upstate home to New York City, to become enmeshed in the evil designs of Harry Leland, a professional blackmailer. The part of Doris Moore is vividly portrayed by Miriam Cooper, whose compelling work wins unbounded sympathy from her audience. Vincent Serrano, who created one of the leading roles in Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," wins many hates for himself as the villainous Leland.

The climax of the play occurs when Leland is shot by an ex-convict whom he had "double-crossed." The shooting takes place when Gordon Laylock, the former convict, discovers Leland abusing the girl. Laylock is saved from arrest by William Lake, mining engineer and hero, who tells the police he saw the murdered man commit suicide. This, of course, protects the girl from the hot tongue of scandal. Leland had attempted to victimize Lake, using the girl as a tool. Lake, however, saw through the plot, fell in love with the girl and resolved to rescue her from the infuence of the black mailer. It was his attempt to test her honor that resulted in bringing Leland into the room where he was killed. The role of Lake, is ably done by Stuart Sage, while William B. Mack makes a very convincing ex-convict. Helen Ware who gives a splendid character study in Kate Fallon, shows that no matter what circumstances may make of a woman, there is always deep in her the dominant element of good.

Wednesday night, Douglass Fairbanks, the popular screen star, will be seen in, "Manhattan Madness." Ahis is a society picture and goes to show that "Doug" makes as big a hit in high society as he does with his outdoor stunts. This is a D. W. Griffith production and is said to be one of Fairbanks best pictures.

Dainty Norma Talmadge will be the attraction Thursday night in one of her latest pictures entitled, "Fifty-Fifty." Not much advance information is known about this picture, but judging by the title and the star, it ought to be a good picture.

Friday night is serial night and the 6th episode of "Fighting Fate" will be shown. A feature of this episode is a clever ruse used by automobile thieves. There will also be five reels of mixed comedy.

Eugene O'Brien reaches new dramatic heights in his latest Selznick picture, "Broadway and Home," which will be the feature attraction, Saturday night.

The story is an original by John Lynch, with Mr. O'Brien cast in role of Michael Strange, a youth who has been raised on the rugged sea coast of Maine. He has an ambition to see the world, and one day his wish is gratified through the generosity of a friend of his dead father's, who feels compelled to pay a debt of gratitude to the son for a service rendered by his father. The friend is Paul Grayson, a wealthy artist who has lived life to the utmost, and it is not strange hat the unsophisticated Michael should be come intoxicated with the gaety of the life Grayson shows him.

All is well, however, until Michael meets, at one of Grayson's parties a girl named Linda Greer. Their meeting develops rapidly into a love affair which creates an intensly dramatic situation, in which there is a touch of tragedy. The outcome of it all sees Michael again at the sea coast, thankful once more for the peaceful quiet of his boyhood home after his short but intense fling at "life."

Alan Crosland directed "Broadway and Home," and the supporting cast includes Elinor Fair, Frank Losee, Warren Cook, Eileen Casidy and other prominent photoplayers.

PARACHUTE FOR BOMBS CONTROLLED BY RADIO

French Engineer Has Taken Out Patent For Ingenious Device

Paris, April 1—Louis Damblanc, a French engineer, has just taken out a patent for an ingenious device of interest regarding aerial bombardments. M. Damblanc has invented a planing apparatus which dropped overboard from either an aeroplane or airship could plane down to earth several miles away. Such a machine carrying a big load of bombs or ammunition could be of exceptional use in war time, the inventor claims, particularly in view of the fact that it can be regulated to drop at a given point, and furthermore would reduce the dangers of aerial bombardment. The machine can also be controlled by wireless and several machines could be carried in any fair-sized airplane.

MRS. SHAABER DIES AS DAUGHTER GIVES LAST RESPONSE

Dr. D. J. Thomas received a more detailed account this morning of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Shaaber, which was thought to have occurred following the wedding ceremony of her daughter, Miss Mary Shaaber to Jacob Howe at Reading, Pa., at noon Wednesday. In a letter to her husband Mrs. Thomas stated that her mother was apparently in good health but just as the bridal procession was leaving the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church at Reading, where the marriage took place, it was noticed that Mrs. Shaaber was a little excited and was not breathing normally. She dropped out of the procession and a physician who was present to witness the ceremony, attended her. Just as her daughter gave her last response, Mrs. Shaaber died.

Mrs. Shaaber and daughter visited here a number of weeks a few years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas of this city were married in the same church in which occured this last unusual happening. Mrs. Thomas will not return to Maryville for several weeks.

Which Battery?

You won't be satisfied with a car unless you are satisfied with the battery.

The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery not only gives the right service to begin with, but keeps on giving it, and actually outlasts the battery plates.

The plates are insulated—not merely separated. And the Threaded Rubber Insulation neither warps, cracks, nor punctures, because unlike wood separators, it is not affected by battery acid.

Drive around. Ask questions. We give authorized Willard Service.

MANY WOULD BUY HIS FALSE TEETH.

Lubec, Mo., April 2.—The power of the press has been clearly demonstrated by T. J. Hartnett of this town. He advertised his misfit false teeth for sale.

He has received many letters of inquiry about them, including one from Susan Cable, of Oakland, Cal., which reads: "Have you sold your teeth yet? Will they fit a lady who wears a No. 4 shoe, weighs 109 pounds and has dark complexion?

"Have you a picture of yourself smiling, showing the teeth? I'd like to see them in action."

S. H. KEMP ASKS FARMERS TO MAKE UP CAR GIFT CORN

When Enough of Grain Has Been Pledged It will be Sent in One Shipment

Plans are being made for an appeal on behalf of the starving people of Armenia, Syria, Palestine and other countries of the Near East. S. H. Kemp, chairman in Nodaway County said yesterday, that along with the appeal for funds an appeal would be made to the farmers for gift corn. No one certainly could refrain from aiding in cuch a cause if he realy understood that there were actual children starving every day for the lact of food.

Mr. Kemp has appointed G. B. Roseberry as chairman of the Gift Corn Committee. Mr. Roseberry is going to ask the farmers to make their contributions in corn or cash. When enough has been pledged to fill a car, arrangements will be made to set a car and on some specified day the corn will be brought in and loaded. The car will be marked Nodaway Farmers Gift Corn for the Near East Relief.

The railroads have agreed to transport such cars of corn or wheat free. At the mills the corn will be ground into corn meal and grits, which will be shipped directly to Constantinople from where the distribution to the stricken people, will take place. Meanwhile an appeal will be made simeltaneously to the people of Maryville so that they can do their share in relieving the tragic conditions.

The committees for the Near East relief will probably be called together next week and definite plans perfected. The appeal will be made in Maryville possibly the second or third week in April, but the appeal for gift corn will commence at once.

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest. I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoy doing my work every moment of the day. It surely put life and 'pep' into my system."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Michigan.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Tartars Had Literary Tastes

The lowly and uncultured Tartars—when books fell into their possession—ate them to acquire the knowledge contained therein. They doubtless suffered indigestion. At least, they weren't overlooking any bets.

There are mistakes both of commission and omission. Better, by far, to be satisfied that you have done your best and endure indigestion, than overlook real opportunities and feel the pangs of unavailing regret.

The advertisements you will find in this newspaper are business mines of opportunity. They tell you of values you might never know, if they were not there to guide you.

Do you read—and digest—this advertising? Figuratively speaking, some folks "eat it up." They are the wise shoppers—the economical buyers—the ones who are strictly up to date on the opportunities for saving money or spending it most judiciously.

Read the advertisements. Read them to know what's what in the shopping district. Read them to save steps—to save money—to save disappointments. Read them because they place before your eyes a moving panorama of business progress. Read them to keep yourself informed.

READ THEM REGULARLY—IT PAYS.
